Downgrade/Cancellation Date:
Medical Certificate Expiration Date:
State Waiver Expiration Date:
Federal Variance Expiration Date:

All Commercial Driver License (CDL) and Commercial Learner Permit (CLP) holders are required to submit a copy of a current valid Medical Examiner's Certificate to DMV. If you hold a State Medical Waiver or Federal Variance, it must be current.

As of the mailing date of the notice:

Your Medical Certificate is expiring or has expired; or
Your Waiver or Variance is expiring or has expired; or
Your Medical Certificate was not uploaded into the CDL medical portal after you were issued a Connectucut Commercial Driver's License.

If you do not have a current Medical Certificate on file, or your Waiver or Variance has expired, your driving status is listed as "Not Certified". Your CDL will be downgraded (changed to a noncommercial Class D license) or your CLP will be canceled. Your valid Medical Examiner's Certificate must be received within 60 days from the downgrade date listed above to avoid re-applying for certain endorsements.

To avoid a downgrade of your CDL or cancellation of your CLP, you must visit our website at https://cdlmedcert.ct.gov/ to upload your current Medical Examiner Certificate. In addition, if you hold a Federal Variance or a State Waiver please upload all related forms.

Please allow up to 10 days for processing. You will receive the status updates by email.

As of the downgrade or cancellation date, your DMV record will indicate that you do not hold a CDL or a CLP. This will be the record available to law enforcement officials. If you operate a commercial motor vehicle without a valid CDL/CLP, you will be subject to law enforcement action.
